New Cases of Yellow Fever.

New Cases Reported Daily.

One Case Positively Recognized as Yellow Fever, and Two Others Are Suspected.

Washingon, Sept. 26.—General Wyman today received the following dispatch from Dr. Gutierrez, the government expert at Mobile, concerning the yellow fever situation there:

"Patient at city hospital is still living.

The case Balsore, reported by me as suspicious, has now become able to see again.

The subsequent history makes the case more suspicious.

It has not been out of the house in any way, and has been associated with people from Ocean Springs.

I have but seen shown another case,

which I have pronounced with out doubt yellow fever.

He is a negro man, no apparent connection with other cases.

I have heard the history of another case which is very suspicious.

The cases are not grouped in any one quarter of the city,"—Dr. Gutierrez.

A dispatch was received from Fort McRee, Miss., the site of the yellow fever camp, from Surgeon White, stating that Dr. Goss reports one new case at Barkley.

The surgeon general ordered by telegram to all tents to be shipped immediately from St. Louis to Surgeon General's office at the depot camp at Fountainbleau, Miss.

Evening Dispatches.

Tonight's notices from the yellow fever district contained the following information:

Surgeon Custer reports one case of yellow fever in San Antonio.

Dr. Goss has been ordered to provide a letter to be forwarded upon them.

There are 10 reports as to the four cases and four cases had been pronounced genuine yellow fever.

The one of the latter was classed as a mild type.

Most Serious Case.

The most serious of the four yellow fever cases is reported in the neighborhood of the French market.

The locality is far from a city, a populated by a large class of people, many of whom are foreigners, and by a number of dangerous groups.

For this reason, especial pains were taken by the board of health to quarantine the infected houses.

Officers from the police force were deputed to take charge of the neighborhood, and sufficient police, and a shop next door to the premises, in which the fever

was first observed, and a distinct area for quarantining established.

Of course the report of new cases did not excite alarm in some quarters, but thus far the disease has shown but little pa-

nancy, as at the record of one death of 11 cases, and none of the practice of physicians is on record as expressing

a fear of its deadly nature.

President Oliphant's View.

President Oliphant, of the board of health, said tonight to the Associated Press correspondent:

"I repeat somewhat what I have said to you yesterday, that we have endeavored to have to replace the appearance of new cases, but the moment

has not yet come when we should throw up our hands and admit that the fever is in a fair way to conquer the city."

It will not be surprising, and we could not be disappointed if other cases appear daily for some time; how many, I am not prepared to say, but it is to be expected to exceed from 10 to 20 cases daily.

The fever is spreading rapidly, and we are anxious to prevent it from reaching the interior of the city.

At present, however, we are not concerned about the disease being spread beyond the limits of the places which we are quarantining. It means instance, that it has not extended beyond the limits of the square on St. Louis, an-doubtedly the infected place.

"WHITE SAND."

"White Sand" is a story of adventure and a dream of M. C. Goffin's (the American Company), an unusual love-story, the reflex of the ordinary John Wayne, but it may exclude it from the bookshelves of his shop, and though there is no real immorality in it, the book, of course, is to be excluded from its general list of books, society as rotten and it is so shall it stand; that the reader cannot claim that it is either overdrawn or underdone.

This is an old one and is meant to describe the cruelty of Syria, the horrors of war, the raiding in the wild desert passing over the water, a handful of white sand, and through the fingers of him who tried to "impose it."

Adam Carpenter was a dreamer. He had loved Sybil's mother and also thought that she would be glad to have dwelt with him during the years he had been in Africa.

When he returned to England he found that she had died, and her place was occupied by a man, a member in every way of Carpenter's heart.

He found himself very much out of place in his wife's drawing room, where people were interested in politics, and where much clever andlique conversation was indulged in. Sybil, though, him did not mind, and was deeply impressed by him. This, and was eventually the end of the book.

There are a few allusions in the book to the many interests of these two.

Carpenter's wife, Anna, is a woman,

a woman, knowing the world and re-cepting human nature as it exists, and seeking happiness from the one, and peace from the other. Anna was a successful novelist, who, after leaving school, had a sort of madness over him, caused by a desire to see the world, and travel, and explore the planet.

It is not a successful narrative, for it is not a book of adventure, but it is a book which has a definite purpose, and that is to teach the reader to be more careful in his reading.

The story may be moral, but it is well written, interesting and true.

All the characters are well drawn, and the author has done a great deal of research in his writing.

NON-PARTISAN CALL SIGNED BY BUSINESS MEN.

Economy and Efficiency are Characteristics of the Office in El Paso County.—Expenses are About Half Done in Offices with a Like Account of Work Elsewhere.—An Increased Surplus Expected This Year.

One of the most important of the commissioners in his influence on the welfare of his county is the treasurer, often called people realize its importance as a business institution. His business is done in so small a space, and the force employed is so small, that it is difficult to realize that the amount of money handled there is larger than in almost any mercantile establishment in the country.

The meeting will occur in the Alamo Hotel tomorrow evening to further the cause of honest economical Government of El Paso County.

Some of the busi ness men and heavy taxpayers of El Paso county propose to take a hand in the coming county election and have the matter entirely in their hands.

A call has been quietly circulated in the past few days, not calling the names of many of the most prominent business men of Colorado Springs and of Cripple Creek.

The meeting will occur in the Alamo hotel tomorrow evening, and as the supporters of the call have pledged themselves to be present a considerable attendance is expected.

"As a precaution against possible interference of the meeting by any political party or organization under the sun, it is proposed to those whose names are signed to the document. The names include representatives of all the principal firms.

The exact programme of the new movement is not yet determined, nor is the form in which it will be taken up.

Whether it will be an endorsement of the nomination of an independent ticket, or whether it will depend on future developments in the famous case, and efforts to prove that Edmunds was in any way connected with the murderer, have not yet been decided.

The plan and signature are as follows:

Young ladies, etc., etc.

Principals, etc., etc., etc.

We, the undersigned business men and taxpayers of El Paso county, realize the importance of the coming election to our county.

The issue before us has nothing to do with national politics, but ordinary partisans.

It is simply a question of honest, economical and efficient government for this county.

El Paso has become a large and populous one of the leading centers of the state, and its growth.

The school system, and also the expenses, have quadrupled in a few years.

The administration of local concerns not only puts down all citizens, and especially local taxpayers and business men.

With five or six political parties in the field, each eager to share in the offices, it is necessary to have a hundred additional tax, and a hundred more, to be assessed just as the tax has to be collected on it just as in Colorado Springs.

There are school districts in this county, and the county treasurer has to collect the school tax for each of these.

He is made by the custodian of the funds of all school districts except those in the first.

There are only two districts of the county in this country.

Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek in both of which districts are now in trust.

Each of the has chosen a county treasurer, so that the present treasurer has to collect the school taxes from the county treasurer.

He is made by the custodian of the funds of every one of the six districts, and all the warrants issued by the school boards, including salaries of teachers, etc., require additional sets of books, and each having from two to four separate accounts.

There have been three new districts in the county in the past six years.

State account.

The county treasurer also collects the state taxes—a general tax for the maintenance of the state government, and a general school tax, and he remits to the state treasurer from time to time the amounts collected in this way. This requires a great number of accounts.

All these different kinds of taxes come to a great deal more than the county tax.

This year, for instance, the total levy in the city of Colorado Springs is $150,000.

Of this only nine mills is for the city, four mills is for the general state, six and two mills is for the general state school.

All this are collected by the county treasurer, leaving only two-sevenths of the whole is for county taxes.
